

Speech marks

Speech marks go around the bits of a sentence
actually being said.

“Hello!”

The background of the slide is a solid blue color. In the bottom right corner, there are several faint, concentric white circles that resemble ripples on water, adding a decorative touch to the design.

Every time we open a set of speech marks we need to use a capital letter.

“Hi!”

The background of the slide is a solid blue color. In the lower half, there are several sets of concentric circles, resembling ripples in water, rendered in a lighter shade of blue. These circles are positioned towards the bottom right and bottom center of the slide.

We also need to put some form of punctuation into each piece of dialogue before we close the speech marks. !?.,.

“Yo dude!”

We also need to start a new line
every time a different character speaks.

“Hello, Matthew!” said James.

“Hi!” replied Sophie.

“How are you?” he asked.

“I am fine and dandy, thanks!”

Where do the speech marks go?

Tom said, would you like a sweet?

Tom said, “Would you like a

The background of the slide features several concentric, light blue circular ripples that resemble water droplets, positioned primarily in the lower right and bottom center areas.

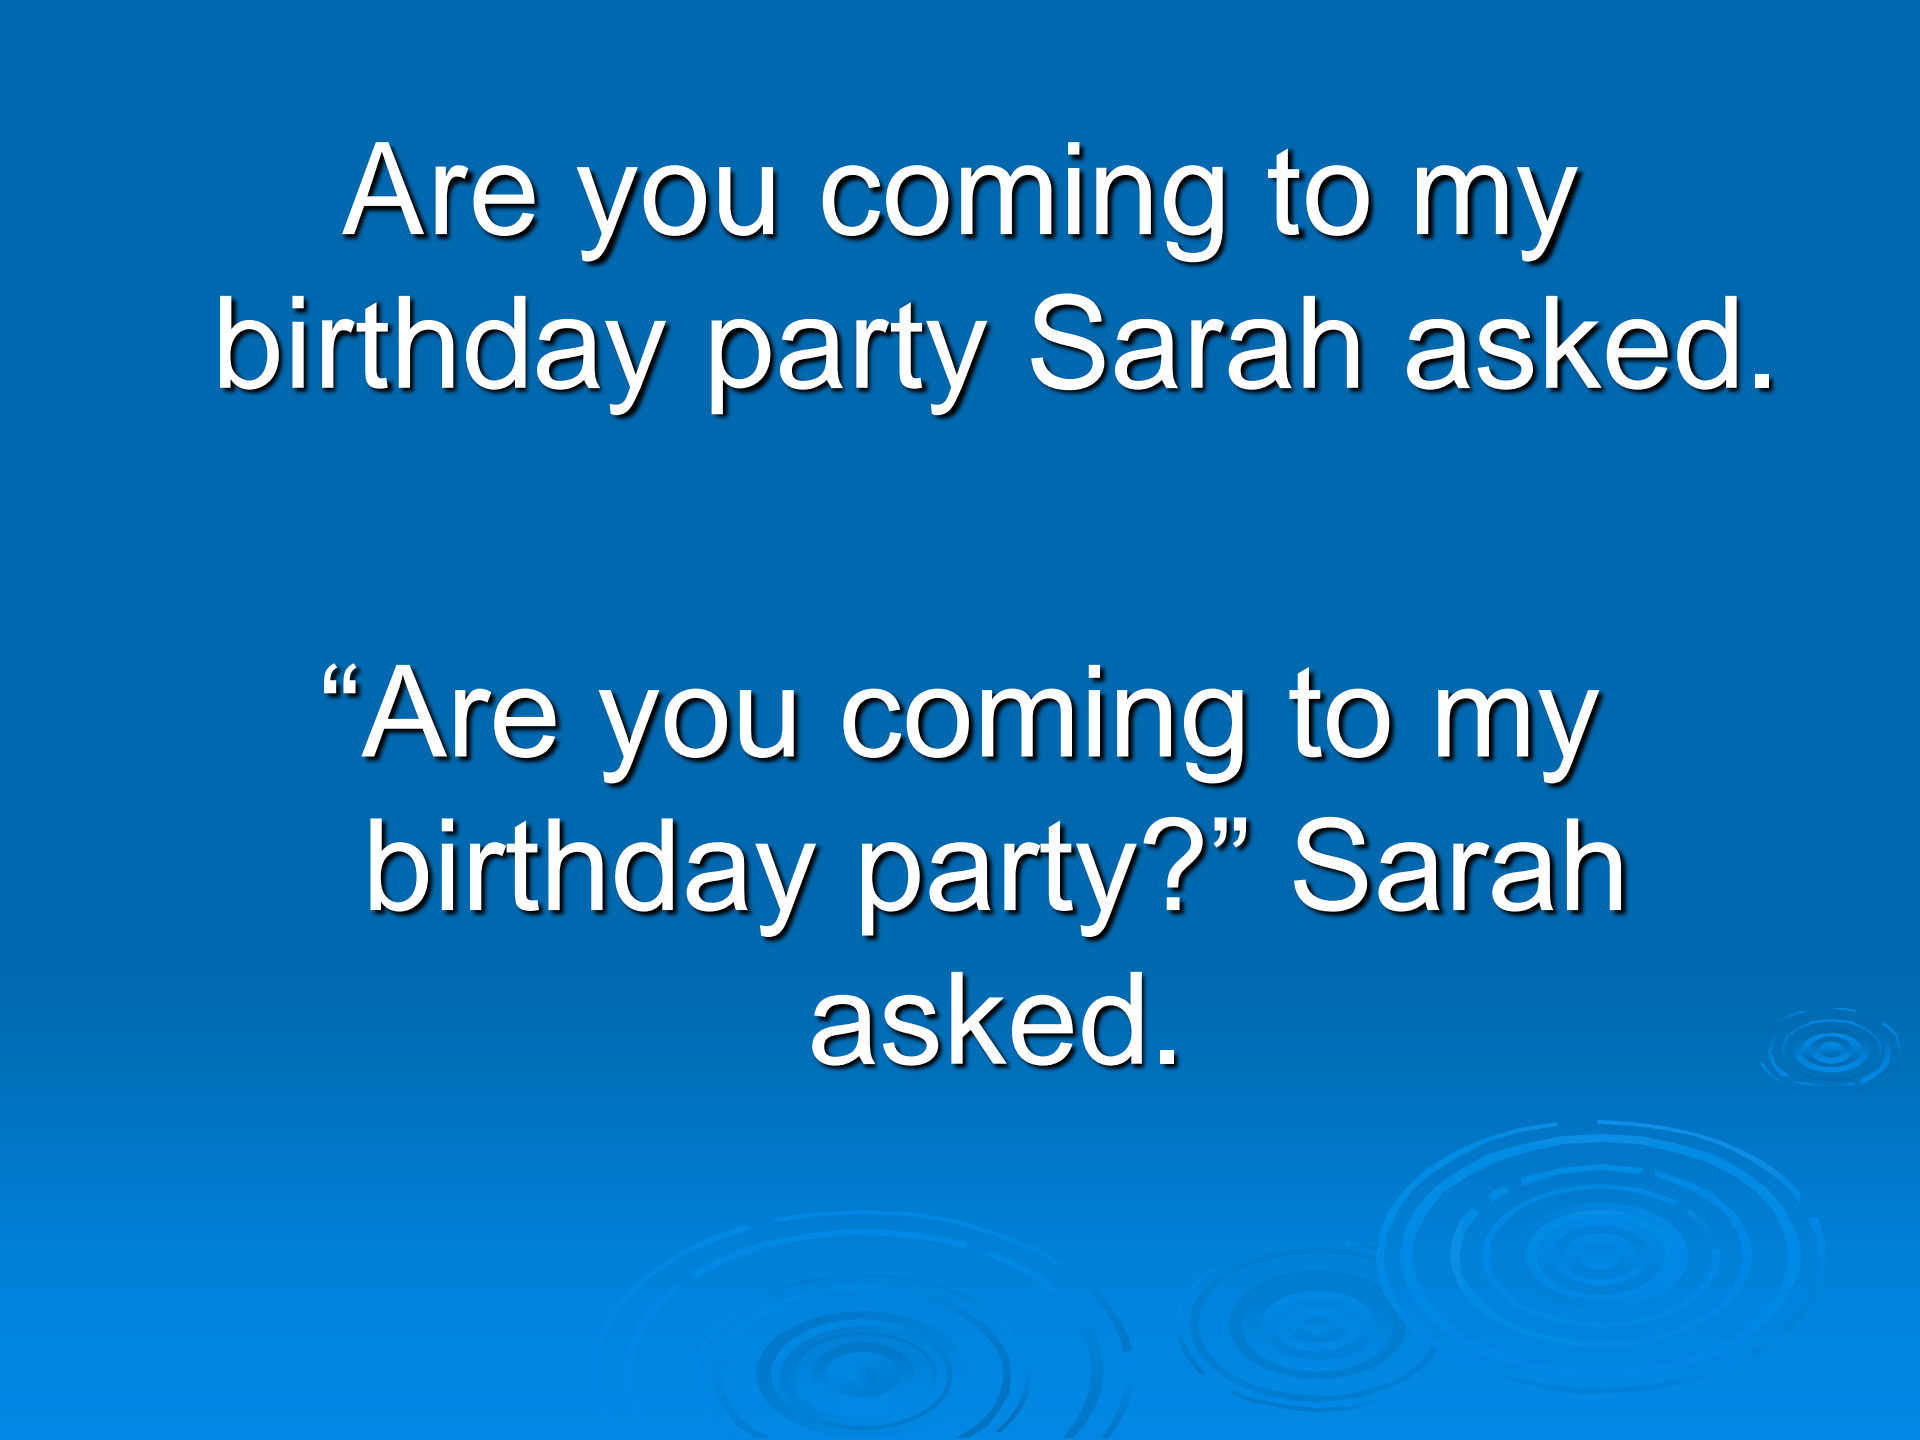

I like playing football said
Patrick.

“I like playing football,”
said Patrick.

The background of the slide is a solid blue color. In the lower right quadrant, there are several faint, concentric circles that resemble ripples in water, adding a decorative element to the slide.

Are you coming to my birthday party Sarah asked.

“Are you coming to my birthday party?” Sarah asked.

Correctly punctuate these sentences:

How are you asked Connor
I'm fine thanks said Jack did you have a nice holiday yes
I did replied Connor Did you
Yes I went to meet David Beckham wow Connor
shouted.

“How are you?” asked Connor.

“I’m fine thanks,” said Jack “Did you have a nice holiday?”

“Yes I did,” replied Connor “Did you?”

“Yes I went to meet David Beckham!”

“Wow!” Connor shouted.

We need to remember:

1. To put speech marks around the words being said.
2. To start each piece of speech with a capital letter.
3. To punctuate the speech before we close it.
4. To start a new line for each new speaker.
